SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Dear Mayor and Council:
Time does not permit my making a personal call on each of you and in February weather the walking is not so good. And it would be walking at the moment for what in my weak moments I call my "car" is afflicted with a slipping clutch, which is not in accordance with the best rules for making distance with a gasoline buggy.

SIGNS LACKING

As it is my desire to have a little chat with you, I am adopting a method which will save shoe leather and gas. The subject of the conversation is the lack of proper signing of the entrances to the city. Back in the days when we were a village it did not matter so much, but although we favor magnificent isolation as far as the entrance of this country into the World Court is concerned, we are against it when it comes to our city. We are a hospitable people and the door is always open to the stranger provided he knows how to get here to avail himself of a cheery welcome. While maintaining an open house why not put the welcome sign on the various entrances?

In driving down from Martinez we passed Tenth street even at a 20-mile-an-hour gait. It has not been long since the commendable work of Supervisor James N. Long opened that artery of travel to the heart of the city. There was no celebration upon the completion of the improvement, but there should have been. We take too much for granted it seems, and fail to accord recognition where due. Be that as it may, people coming from the north on the highway would never know about

Public Enemy 1 May Be Hiding Out In Oakland

OAKLAND, Feb. 4.—Alvin Karpis, most recent successor to the title of "Public Enemy No. 1," may be in Oakland.

This information was given to police today by an unnamed informant who said he had seen at Thirteenth street and Broadway a man known to him to be one of Karpis' lieutenants.

And the "tip" precipitated an immediate broadcast to all police officers of the bay district to be on the lookout for the man sought for the kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn. banker, for $100,000 ransom a year ago.

The last appearance of Karpis was in southeastern Michigan where he and a companion identified as Harry Campbell, escaped from a police trap January 23.

The informant who gave the Oakland "tip" today told Police Inspectors William Marshall and E. F. Murphy that he had attended grammar school with Karpis in Topeka, Kan. Another schoolmate, he said, he remembers only as "Eddie," a boy who later became a prizefighter and associate of Karpis.

It was "Eddie" he declares he saw at Thirteenth and Broadway this morning as he was alighting from a bus.

The informant told the police that during his school days Karpis was known as a bully and tormenter of smaller boys. The Karpis family moved from Topeka to Chicago in 1926 or 1927, he said, and he had not seen Karpis since that time.

Youth Injured While At Play

Francis Harcourt, 12 of 2819 Clinton avenue, suffered a broken left leg when he tripped over the curb at Twenty-third street and Roosevelt avenue shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Young Harcourt was playing with several boys when the accident occurred.

The injured boy was taken to a local hospital and was treated by Dr. U. S. Abbott. Later he was returned to his home.

THE WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO BAY REGION—Cloudy and unsettled Tuesday and Wednesday; occasional light rain, moderate temperature, gentle to moderate southerly winds.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Cloudy; unsettled Tuesday and Wednesday; occasional light rain central and south portions and over Skagway; moderate temperature; the Kress store. They were certified to the juvenile court.

DEFENSE AGAIN ACCUSES GIRL BOURBONS REVOLT ON RELIEF BILL

4 CONVICTS INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 4.—UP—Indictments carrying the death penalty were asked of a Marin county grand jury today for four convicts as a result of the recent sensational San Quentin escape attempt.

Joe Kristy, Alexander McKay and Fred Landers, San Quentin participants in the bloody break, and Clyde Stevens, alleged engineer of the attempt, were those named in the charges. Stevens now is in Folsom prison, serving a minimum 30 year term on his plea of guilty to bank robbery charges.

District Attorney Albert Dagshaw presented the indictment demands. The death penalty was sought under four counts of kidnapping against the convicts, who took six persons, including three members of the State prison and parole board, as hostages in their wild flight from the prison.

Stevens did not engage in the actual break, but assertedly smuggled four guns used in the affair to the men.

Warden James B. Holohan was severely beaten by the convicts as they sought to escape. Rudolph Straight, fourth participant in the break, was shot and killed by Dagshaw when cornered with his companions some 30 miles from San Quentin.

SERA Orchestra Will Be Formed In This County

Organization of an SERA orchestra was announced yesterday by the local offices of the SERA.

Carl Richards, former local music dealer and orchestra leader, has been named director of the organization.

On Thursday night a preliminary meeting will be held at 268 Sixth street and at that time it will be decided how many members will be used. It is understood that 30 musicians will be employed.

Officers of the SERA declare that the object of the project is to put eligible musicians and entertainers, now on the rolls for relief work employment, into the line of work for which they have been trained and thus make use of this talent and make it available for public entertainment. It has been suggested that anyone with musical talent, or who has had entertainment training, and who believes himself eligible for SERA work relief employment, put in their application at the nearest point of application and, if eligible, might be fitted into this new county-wide project.

It is expected that this new organization will be available to the public after February 8. Any organization may request the orchestra to stage a program for them, but no admission price may be charged.

Arch Masons Will Have Degree Work

Degree work will be featured when the Royal Arch Masons meet on Wednesday evening at the Masonic hall. F. L. Culbertson will preside.

The Past Master's degree will be conferred by William Hislop.

TWO BOYS HELD

Two minor boys, names withheld by police, were arrested yesterday for theft of several articles from the Kress store. They were certified to the juvenile court.

Creation Of Machine Is Seen In New Road Scheme

MARTINEZ, Feb. 4.—The first objection registered with the board of supervisors against the proposed plan of Governor Frank A. Merriam, to take the handling of county roads out of the hands of the supervisors of the State and placing it with State highway commission, was heard at the board meeting today, when a letter was read from Emory A. Smith, of Danville, member of a prominent firm of chemists in San Francisco.

Smith strenuously objected to the plan, claiming that it was only the beginning of building up a monster State political machine. Events have demonstrated, the writer said, that the expenses of any project handled by the State were far greater than when handled by the counties. He asserted that centralization of power should be frowned upon. With a State official there is no redress concerning the handling of money, but with local supervisors, they can always be voted out of office. If their administration is not proper, continuing, the writer said, that a county now has this remedy but it would be deprived of it if roads were handled by the State.

The letter was ordered filed, but it is understood the supervisor will take the subject up at a future meeting, when there will be an extended discussion of the matter.

INJURED IN CRASH

Sostenen Sanchez, 39, of Crockett, is recovering from slight injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile accident in El Cerrito. Sanchez was riding with Joseph Reza, also of Crockett, when they were involved in a collision with a machine driven by G. E. Bothwell, of Oakland.

Protest Is Entered On Loveridge

MARTINEZ, Feb. 4.—After an exciting all-morning session here today, when E. L. Orr, of Richmond, president of the Central Labor Trades Council, demanded the removal of Otis Loveridge of Pittsburg, head of the County Social Welfare department, the supervisors took the matter under advisement and will make a decision at a future meeting.

WILLING TO LISTEN
The board told those present at the meeting they were glad to have them present their case, as it was at all times ready and willing to listen to any legitimate complaints about the conduct of officials of the county.

The removal was asked on the ground that Loveridge was not sympathetic with labor, and that at a CWA meeting he made the statement that 30 cents an hour was sufficient for CWA labor.

WANTS "FIRING" DATA
E. L. Orr, was the spokesman of the delegation and he kept stressing the fact that no information had been given out concerning the resignation of "Firing" or Mrs. Ruth McCord, former head of the department, and people were asking for information.

Chairman W. J. Buchanan, answered by saying:
"In due time you will get all of the facts."

GRAND JURY CAN TELL
Supervisor J. N. Long further amplified Buchanan's statement by giving the information, that the investigation of the welfare department had been conducted by the grand jury, a secret body. The supervisors were called into the meeting of the Inquisitorial body under a pledge of secrecy.

"If there is to be any information given out at this time," said Long, "it must come from the grand jury and not from this board. The members of the press, and they are a keen lot of people, have put forth their utmost efforts to secure information, and they have been unable to secure but little."

Police Night Is Held By Masonic Lodge at Meeting

Law enforcement officers occupied the spotlight at the meeting of Harbor Lodge of Masons last evening, following a business meeting held under the direction of F. H. Wilkins, the worshipful master.

Police Chief L. E. Jones was one of the main speakers of the evening. Chief Jones discussed the new Safety Council recently inaugurated here and asked every member to lend support.

Two Berkeley police officers then appeared and told of the two-way radio system and demonstrated this latest method of crime prevention and detection.

In the banquet room, Justice of the Peace John Moore was introduced. He declared in discussing his experience as a justice, that something must be done about the number of youngsters who are appearing in court on crime charges. Many of those who appear are between 18 and 22 years of age, Judge Moore said. Many of these he said, are products of broken homes, due to economic conditions.

The talks proved to be the most interesting ever heard by the Harbor Lodge.

Carlson Will Fight Port Discrimination

City Attorney Tom Carlson was instructed by the council at its meeting last evening to make a vigorous fight to prevent the Port of Richmond from being placed on the irregular call list by the Pacific Coastwise Shipping Conference.

A letter was read from the secretary of the shipping conference in which it was stated that the value of the traffic at this city, was not enough for Richmond to be placed on the regular list. It was claimed that tonnage to the amount of 150 must be on hand to insure the docking of a vessel.

The assertion was made that operating costs had increased and ship owners did not feel they should be called upon to absorb these additional expenses.

The assertion that the new plan would not affect rates here, was questioned by Councilman W. W. Scott, who said if the 150-ton minimum was not reached, then the rates would increase.

Pittsburg Seeks Branch Hospital

MARTINEZ, Feb. 4.—The Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce today petitioned the supervisors for a branch county hospital in that city.

As Richmond has been refused a branch hospital a number of times, and its population is twice that of Pittsburg, it is not likely that any action will be taken on the application.

Plane Landed On Snow Covered Field

Dr. C. G. Spalte, of El Cerrito, landed his airplane at the Truckee field on Sunday, despite warnings that the field was covered by four feet of snow. So skillfully did Dr. Spalte land, his plane was not damaged and he and two companions were uninjured.

The doctor was forced to land by a faulty motor. Dr. Spalte and his two companions continued the trip home by train.

ROOSEVELT POWER WILL BE MODIFIED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—A little group of Senate Democrats, holding the fate of the $4,380,000,000 jobs-for-all bill on their hands, agreed today to curtail sharply the broad authority sought by President Roosevelt to administer the huge

Their ranks took at dissonance over the wide power demanded by the White House, Democratic members of the powerful Senate appropriations committee met secretly to agree upon a measure, which all could support on the floor.

TO MODIFY BILL
At the close of the session, Chairman Carter Glass, Democrat, Virginia, admitted the committee had agreed to "modify" the bill, but declined to elaborate on the proposed revisions. He said the meeting was harmonious and that a complete discussion of the measure had taken place.

From other sources, however, it was learned that the reluctance of individual members to give Mr. Roosevelt a free hand to disburse the giant appropriations was expressed in sharp tones.

IN AGREEMENT
Although Glass persisted in his refusal to detail proposed revisions in the bill, it was learned that:

1.—The group agreed unanimously to strike from the measure the "economic maladjustment" clause, a definite limitation upon Mr. Roosevelt's power as under the measure, for example, he could have spent money to aid livery trucks outmoded by the automobile.

2.—An amendment which would limit forthcoming construction to those projects "heretofore or hereafter authorized by law is expected to be adopted. This is another limitation, in that it would prevent the expenditure of funds on such projects as that initiated at Readsville, W. Va. to which Congress objected.

Mother, Son And Pets Found Dead

OAKLAND, Feb. 4.—UP—Neighbors found the bodies of 10-year old John Smith, his foster mother, Mrs. Alice Griffin, 50, John's dog, and a pet canary in Mrs. Griffin's apartment today.

John, crippled by infantile paralysis, had lived with Mrs. Griffin for months. His body was sprawled on a bathroom floor. Mrs. Griffin lay in a bedroom. The dog had died on an enclosed porch, and the canary's body lay in its cage.

Fumes from a defective water heater apparently had asphyxiated the boy, Mrs. Griffin and the pets, John Sorenson, tenant of an apartment above Mrs. Griffin, broke into the room when neighbors reported the woman and boy had not been seen since Friday.

Ethel Milicevich was granted a divorce and custody of two minor children from her husband, William Daniel Milicevich; Ruth Gall was granted a divorce from her husband, Edmund Gall, while Mrs. Catherine Custic was granted a divorce and custody of two minor children from her husband, Herbert Custic and $50 a month alimony. It is understood a property settlement was effected out of court.

Mrs. Helen Sweetan was granted a $5 increase in alimony payments after her former husband, Sam Sweetan, had filed action seeking to have his alimony payments of $35 a month reduced. Mrs. Sweetan, through Attorney Calfee, protested the action and demanded that the alimony payments be increased by $5 a month. Her plea was granted.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Wilson and Kratzer chapel for the late Hans C. Christensen, 163 Eleventh street, who died at a Berkeley hospital yesterday.

Deceased was 68 years of age and was a native of Denmark and had lived in this city for the past 15 years.

Christensen leaves his sister-in-law, Mrs. Carrie Doeblin, of Richmond.

HAUPTMANN ALIBI STORY TOLD COURT

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 4.—UP—A story of how an English, serving girl from aristocratic Englewood, N. J., supposedly joined a German fur worker from the Bronx to kidnap the Lindbergh baby was unraveled today.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann's lawyer drew it from witnesses with brief, sharp questions which usually could be answered with a simple "yes" or "no." Then they left it there in the court record to sink into the minds of the jurors, and passed on to other matters.

SUSPICIONS MOVER
Tonight, a fog of suspicion hangs over the graves of Violet Sharpe and Isidor Fisch — one in Brookside Cemetery, Englewood and the other half a world away in Germany. Most of the day Edward J. Reilly, chief of the defense staff, worked to make a well rounded narrative out of his theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann is sitting here on trial for his life only because he had the misfortune to know Fisch and to go into business with him.

At dusk Fisch was the same shadowy person he always has been. Defense had linked him to this crime with the words of only one witness, and that witness faltered every time he was asked to make a clear cut statement of fact.

TELLS HIS STORY
Peter H. Sommer, a New York city employee, clung to his tale that Fisch "might have been the man" he saw helping Violet Sharpe on a street car in Manhattan about four hours after the Lindbergh child was kidnapped. At any rate he was positive that this woman carried a golden haired child about two years old. That left Fisch in the haze zone of doubt, but the defense then brought to the witness chair a Mrs. Anna Bonsteel who add

Veterans Plan School Visits February 12th

A program of visits to the various schools on Lincoln's birthday was outlined last night at the meeting of the Allied War Veterans' Council held at the Memorial hall.

The visits will start at 9:35 in the morning and will continue in the afternoon.

El Cerrito veterans and auxiliaries will attend the Harding, Fairmont and Kensington schools; the Legion and Auxiliary will go to Longfellow junior high school, the Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson and Pullman schools; the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary will attend the Roosevelt junior high school and Grant grammar school. Fred Wake of the American Legion will go to the Nystrom Washington schools; Mrs. Beattie Poulsen of the Admiral Dewey Auxiliary will go to the Peres school while Mrs. Clara Bradshaw also of Admiral Dewey Auxiliary will attend the Stege school.

The American Legion Americanization team will visit several of the schools.

Pease Murder Trial Delayed

OAKLAND, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Superior Judge Fred V. Wood today continued until Wednesday the trial of Damon Pease, 28, charged with the murder of Hugh Mallock, Berkeley service station operator.

The delay was requested at request of Pease's attorneys. Pease will be sentenced Tuesday, on a plea of guilty to charges of robbing the service station.

TRACK MEET
TO BE HELD AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Feb. 4.—UP—The National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field meet, leading college track event of the year, will be held at the University of California in June, it was announced today.

William A. Monahan, graduate manager of athletics at California, said an invitation to N. C. A. A. officials had been accepted and the meet would be held either June 14-15 or June 21-22.

Formal approval of the meet was contained in a telegram from T. Nelson Metcalf, of the University of Chicago, chairman of the N. C. A. A. committee.

John I. Griffin, commissioner of the Western Conference, also sent his approval of the meet from Chicago today. Negotiations for the meet have been under way between Monahan and Griffin for several weeks.

Insuring the participation of practically all leading performers of schools through the nation, a guaranty of $12,500 expense money has been made, Monahan said.

In acting as host to the 14th annual national meet this year, California will become the first college to stage both the I. C. 4-A and the N. C. A. A. meet on its home field. The I. C. 4-A was held at Berkeley in 1932.

Last year's meeting, held at Los Angeles under the direction of University of Southern California athletic officials, was the most successful financially ever held, and was said to have favored selection of the Western field for the coming meet.

Basketball Games

BEN MALIK, Pinole Y. M. C. and CCC boys won their games last night in the Richmond City Basketball League.

The Ben Malik team won from the Calico club by a score of 29 to 29 in the A League game. Bowles was high point man with 15 points.

In the B League game, the Y. M. C. team defeated San Pablo by a score of 18 to 14. Marcos started for the winners with five points.

In the C League game, the CCC boys defeated the Battleaxes by a score of 31 to 19.

JOE MEDWICK
IS HOLD-OUT
OVER SALARY

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—UP—Joe "Ducky Wacky" Medwick, youthful left fielder of the champion St. Louis Cardinals and storm center of the last world series, admitted tonight that the Cardinals' salary proposals are unsatisfactory and that he will join Pitcher Dizzy Dean as a holdout unless offered at least $10,000 for the 1935 season.

"Club officials apparently believe I can live for a year on the fruit and vegetables which the thoughtful Detroit fans contributed during the last game of the world series," Medwick told the United Press with a wry smile.

"Such is not the case. I left that garbage right there in the outfield where it landed. And now I want a salary approaching my ability as an outfielder."

Two days of futile dickering with President Sam Breadon, Vice President Branch Rickey and Manager Frankie Frisch had punctured the glories of last season's pennant and series triumphs and left the 23 year old husky in the brown suit quite miserable and irate.

Medwick gave his ultimatum during an exclusive interview at his downtown hotel, just before leaving New York for his home in Carter, N. J. He said he had not received his contract yet, and didn't know if the St. Louis office had mailed it, but he knew from talks with Breadon, Rickey and Frisch that it would be unsatisfactory.

Medwick said he figured himself almost as important to the club in the Cards' approaching defense of the National League pennant as the mighty Dizzy Dean. "Without boasting," he explained, "I think my play last year was an important factor during the season and in the series. I was second ranking batsman on the Cards with an average of .319. I made 18 home runs and led the league in triples with 18."

"I made 11 hits during the seven games of the series and probably would have equalled the record of 12 if Commissioner Landis had not taken me out of the last game."

"Breadon and Frisch tell me I've only been in the majors two full seasons and that I shouldn't expect a Babe Ruth salary," Joe concluded. "What difference does it make how long I've been in the majors if I'm delivering the goods. If they don't think I'm worth the money I'm asking, why don't they sell me? I don't think they would have much trouble doing that."

Medwick declined to reveal his 1934 salary but it is understood to have been about $4500.

quintet at Los Angeles as the second half of the southern division of the coast basketball conference opens Friday.

Although beaten, 51 to 48, by St. Mary's Saturday, the California five is heavily favored over the southern team. U.C.L.A. was soundly trounced 52 to 22, by U.S.C. on Saturday, and is expected to provide little difficulty for Nibs Price's Bear squad.

Jack Ball of U.C.L.A., second leading scorer in the southern division, is expected to be the strongest Bruin threat.

Romance Rumored

DESPITE DENIALS from Northampton, Mass., close friends in Washington whispered over their teacups that Mrs. Grace Coolidge, widow of the late President Calvin Coolidge, would wed in the spring. SANTA ANITA, Feb. 4.—UP—Brookmeade stable's Cavalcade, America's greatest three year old in 1934 and favorite for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap February 23, removed all doubt of his fitness today by galloping a mile over a sloppy track in 1:41 3-5.

Trainer Bob Smith gave a large off day crowd a glimpse of the Kentucky Derby winner in action when he worked his charge between the first and second races.

Starting in company with Oakliff and Shining Jewel, the English bred colt soon outdistanced his stablemates as he clicked off the quarter mile in :25 1-5, reached the half way mark in :50 3-5, turned the three quarters in 1:15 3-5 and finished well in hand.

With Steamer

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 4.—(UP)—The Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Alice, inbound from Seattle in a heavy fog, rammed a steel prow deep into a West Vancouver ferry and sank it today, with the loss of one life.

An unidentified woman was drowned or killed in the rear saloon cabin. Captain D. Smith of the ferryboat tried vainly to break through jammed doors to reach her, but the vessel sank before he could effect the rescue.

Captain Smith, bleeding from a head wound, his crew and five passengers were taken from the water or wreckage by lifeboat crews from the Princess Alice. There were no serious injuries.

The collision occurred just at the entrance to Vancouver harbor. The ferryboat sank within 13 minutes of the crash.

Fiend Slayer Is Tried, Convicted
In Record Time

CLEVELAND, Miss., Feb. 4.—UP—A circuit court jury decided in five minutes tonight that the State of Mississippi will take the life of James H. Coyner, giant Negro, for the fiendish mutilation murders of Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius B. Turner.

Trial of the giant, once convicted of grave robbing in Indiana, who laughingly told officers he slew the Turners because he had an "impulse to kill someone," moved to an unexpectedly swift conclusion.

Coyner was brought today from Jackson, where he had been sent for safekeeping by National Guardsmen who set up a strong guard about the courthouse to prevent mob violence. A jury was selected by nightfall.

Judge W. A. Alcorn, Jr., decided to finish the trial tonight. The state began presenting testimony less than three hours later, at 7:57 P. M. the jurors began deliberating the case. In five minutes they returned a verdict of guilty. Judge Alcorn sentenced Coyner to be hanged, March 5, the earliest day permitted under State law.

Speaking Of Sports

BERKELEY, Feb. 4.—A decrease of $33,295.07 in net profit for the fall of 1934 in activities of the Associated Students of the University of California was reported today by W. W. Monahan, graduate manager.

The net profit for the period was $137,797.96, as compared to $171,093.03 in the corresponding period in 1933.

The net profit does not consist entirely of actual cash. Monahan pointed out, since approximately $70,000 of the total represents Stadium Scrip retired at the time of the California-Stanford "Big Game" last November.

Due chiefly to income derived from football, the fall is the profitable period of the year. The net profit remaining at the end of the fall period will find immediate use in carrying on the athletic and non-athletic activities of the association during the spring season and in meeting a portion of the indebtedness incurred in the development of the Edwards Fields athletic area, Monahan declared.

While the non-profitable activities sponsored by the association operated at a total loss comparable to that incurred in 1933—$29,182.61, as compared to $28,426.61 a year ago—and profits were slightly in excess.

The football profit in turn "earns" the balance of the athletic program. During the fall this expense in the "off-season" for most of the sports concerned totalled $27,913.07. The general overhead charges against athletics, including administration expense, stadium expense and the expense of the Edwards Fields and Edwards Track Stadium, totalled $34,870.16. These deductions reduce the profits for athletics as a group to $151,827.13. The profit in the fall of 1933 was $138,529.11.

Aside from athletics, the profitable activities of the association are the field concessions, the general student body and undergraduate publications and football programs—all activities more or less directly connected with athletics. The publications group showed an increased profit of $11,087.71 as compared to $9,166.07 in 1933, while the other two activities showed slight gains.

Losing activities of the association include the dining service, dramatics, stores at Berkeley and Davis, welfare work, women's athletics and the maintenance of two buildings, Stephens Union and Eschman Hall.

Resignation Of
Head Of Game
Board Accepted

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Gov. Frank E. Merriam today accepted the resignation of J. Dale Gentry, San Bernardino, president of the State Fish and Game Commission, and said he hoped to fill the vacancy very soon.

This letter to Gentry said: "I am accepting your resignation, effective some days ago, effective Monday, February 4. This action is not a reflection on you or your work but is in line with a desire for a new commission to inaugurate and work out policies and plans of this administration."

During his morning press conference, the Governor said he had no personal feeling regarding Gentry, but wanted new men on the commission "with a new, unprejudiced idea." He appointed Dr. C. E. Moore, Los Angeles surgeon, recently to replace Charles N. Cotton, original Merriam appointee who resigned.

There was no indication that the Governor would remove J. Zellerbach, San Francisco, third member of the commission.

COURT RIFT OVER GOLD CASE SEEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The United States Supreme Court in a brief decision session today gave an intimation that it has reached a decision in the gold cases.

Convening after two weeks' recess, the court held a session lasting less than two hours. Contrary to the usual custom, neither Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes nor Justice Willis Van Devanter read an opinion.

DECISION IS MADE

Observers familiar with the court's practices interpreted this to mean:

- 1.—That the gold cases have been decided.
- 2.—That opinion is divided.
- 3.—That Hughes and Van Devanter will read the opinions, one presenting the majority views and the other dissenting.

4.—That the decision will be made known soon, probably next Monday.

NEW DEDUCTIONS

While admitting there was absolutely no official intimation of what the decision will be or when it will be announced, observers explained their deductions as follows:

Hughes and Van Devanter invariably read at least one opinion each on decision days. The fact that neither read one today indicated they are too busy. Since the gold case was the only important one left undecided after today's decisions were announced, it is reasonable to assume the court has reached its decision and these two justices are at work on the opinions.

SEE RIFT IN COURT

If the two justices are writing opinions, Van Devanter, recognized as head of the so-called conservative group of the court, would be expected to hold against the government—ruling that holders of gold clause bonds must be paid with $169 of present currency for each $1 of face value to make up the difference between the devalued dollar and the old standard dollar.

The conservative group generally includes five other justices: Hughes, George Sutherland, Owen J. Roberts, James C. McReynolds, and Pierce Butler. This time, however, Hughes obviously is taking position opposite to that of Van Devanter. The situation leaves the status of Roberts in doubt, but he was swung away from the conservatives to vote with the liberals more often than Hughes.

UPHOLD GOVERNMENT

If this reasoning is correct, and there is no official intimation it is infallible—the court might be expected to uphold the government by a vote of 5 to 4.

In support of the theory that the decision will come next Monday, observers said Hughes has the reputation of extremely fast work in preparing opinions. The court has made it clear it recognizes the importance of an early decision. For this reason, it was said it is safe to infer that the opinions probably will be read Monday, or at least before the court takes its next recess.

GOVERNOR IN NEW ATTACK ON GAME PROBLEM

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—A new attack on game wild problems was signaled today by Governor Frank P. Merriam.

Governor Merriam, in accepting the resignation of J. Dale Gentry, San Bernardino, president of the state fish and game commission, commented that he did so "in line with a desire for a new commission, to inaugurate and work out policies and plans of the administration."

The Governor indicated he hoped to fill Gentry's post with a new member of the commission at present is Dr. E. C. Moore, named to replace Charles N. Cotton, resigned. There was no indication that J. Zellerbach, San Francisco, third member of the group would be removed.

Governor Merriam expressed a hope that the commission would be able to reconcile previously conflicting commercial and conservation interests. While observing that he was not opposed to commercial fishing interests, he remarked that "to do its best" to remove floating sardine reduction plants.

"In addition, I believe the commission should undertake a scientific survey of the state in respect to preservation of wild game and fish," the Governor said. "We have thousands of acres that are probably suitable to little but forestry uses and fish and game. I am greatly in favor of making game preserves out of these lands, and will ask the commission to give these matters careful attention."

IS RECOVERING

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Col. W. B. Greeley, secretary-manager of the West Coast Lumberman's Association and former chief of the National Forest Service, was believed recovering tonight from serious injuries sustained last week when struck by a CCC truck. Hospital attendants said his condition was improved and that he was resting quietly.

Developments In World News Told By Press

Copyright 1934 by United Press

Developments abroad Monday included:

Berlin—Adolf Hitler says Germany is willing to return to the League of Nations and the Geneva disarmament conference on the basis of the new Franco-British accords.

London—United States interest in Anglo-French move to annul arms restriction clause in Versailles treaty, legalizing Germany's re-armament, which also is provided in a separate German-American peace treaty.

Laris—Premier Flandin sees the proposed aerial pact of mutual assistance with Britain, Belgium and Germany as the most important phase of the new accords, and tells people aviation is the greatest means of war.

Geneva—League members at plenary assembly, believed it presages the organization of an international air force in Europe.

Tokyo—Japan preparing to scrap "certain provision" relative to troops in Manchuria of Portsmouth treaty ending the Russo-Japanese war in 1905.

Rio de Janeiro—Frontier advisers indicate the Uruguayan revolution has failed and President Gabriel Terra's Loyalist forces are victorious on all fronts. Uruguay was quiet, with the rebels scattering into the hinterland.

British Officials Will Visit Hitler

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler today told the British Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps that Germany will discuss armaments and her return to Geneva on the basis of the Franco-British proposals legalizing German armament.

Sir Eric was understood to have indicated a British delegation headed by Sir James Simon, British foreign secretary or Captain Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, would visit Berlin shortly to inaugurate these conversations designed to bring the Reich into the European family of nations.

UNION'S CZAR PUT ON SPOT BY GANGSTERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—A "first of shotgun fire" ended the strife-torn career of Thomas J. (Big Tom) Maloy, czar of the Motion Picture Operators union, today as he was taking a daily drive for his health along the Lake Michigan shoreline.

Dr. Emmet Quinn, dentist and sometime motion picture operator, who has been Maloy's companion in these health drives for seven years, was seen by flying along as Maloy's body, his head almost torn away, slumped in the driver's seat.

Bill Showers, body guard for Maloy, did not accompany his employer. Usually he occupied the sedan's rear seat but today he remained at union headquarters.

Maloy was proceeding north along the outer drive when a light coupe containing three men drew alongside on the left. Two men were on the running board.

There was a burst of gunfire. "It sounded just as though bricks were being thrown through the window of the car," Quinn said. "After hearing the glass crash I noticed the sound of gunfire. It was all over in just a few seconds. Tom was slumped down over the wheel and the car was swerving wildly."

"I pulled on the emergency brake and stopped to a stop as quickly as possible."

Maloy was under federal indictment for income tax evasion. One police theory was that gangland connections feared disclosures at his trial.

Three Injured In Auto Crash

Three men received painful cuts and bruises Sunday when a car driven by Joe Lanza of 616 Ocean avenue, West Side, skidded out of control near the intersection of Pullman avenue and State street and crashed into a power pole.

Riding with Lanza were Joseph Bono, of 501 Ocean avenue; Julie Siren, of 2129 Byron street, Berkeley; and Norman Wakefield, 1818 Pennsylvania avenue, Richmond. Their injuries were treated at the Cottage hospital.

NEW SKI RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—A new United States amateur record of 225 feet has been set for ski jumping. The long leap, which exceeds the previous best jump by 15 feet, was made yesterday at the Los Angeles Winter Sports Carnival at Big Pine, municipal playground 100 miles north of here, by Casper Olm of the Montaka Ski club, National amateur ski champion for 1934.

BURGLES KILLED

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 4.—An unidentified burglar caught in the act of cracking the safe of the Granada theater was shot and killed here early today by J. H. Gold, private patrolman. An accomplice who escaped, was believed wounded by Gold, who fired several shots at the fleeing figure.

that entrance and then force would keep driving until Macdonald avenue was reached, where the sign indicates there is a city of our name somewhere to the west.

TO SAN FRANCISCO

The same caution applies to Twenty-third street, where a sign tells us it is the shortest route to San Francisco via a ferry. Not a word is said that the road leads into Richmond.

NOT ON THE MAP

While in Los Angeles talking about signs, there is something else the council might do. At the intersection in the town of Martinez where the turn is made to get on the highway to drive south there is a sign containing the information that Pinole and Oakland are in that direction and not a word is said about Richmond. While we pridefully boast of being the largest city in the county, apparently the State Highway Department does not think we amount to much. A traveler, not familiar with directions and locations would not know whether he was on the right road or not. That sign should be changed and I know of no better body to exert pressure to bring about the change than the council.

Incidentally none of the road signs between Martinez and the entrance to the city bears the name of Richmond. Wouldn't that cause your innards to become disturbed?

LET'S SIGN UP

Would it not be possible for you gentlemen and the lady member to have that canny guardian of our finances, Mr. McVittie, search the books, corners and crannies and see if he cannot discover enough loose change to remedy this condition?

It is not my contention that a sign of the size and glaring brilliance at night, such as spans the avenue at Macdonald should be erected, for perhaps at this particular time it would cost more than the public purse could disburse; but a painted sign telling the traveler when he reaches these intersections of our whereabouts and giving him the opportunity to get here at the minimum of trouble would serve a very useful purpose and promote a better feeling generally.

WANTS FULL DETAILS

The fact that the Record-Herald was the only newspaper in Contra Costa county which from meeting to meeting of the social welfare committee of the grand jury kept the public abreast of the developments regarding the inquiry into the affairs of the social welfare department, almost led us to believe that the people were not very vitally interested in this important agency of our county government.

Then came the meeting of the grand jury with the supervisors and the dismissal of Mrs. Ruth McCord, the director, followed the next day by her resignation. There was no question then whether the public was interested for it eagerly scanned the papers and the matter became practically the sole topic of conversation. As evidence of the widespread interest, the following comment from the last issue of the Concord Transcript is illuminating:

"The upset in the social welfare department of this county, which came last week on the heels of an investigation by the grand jury, has been the subject for juicy conversation by all Contra Costans. They are anxiously waiting to hear the full account of what transpired in that meeting of the Board of Supervisors, which resulted in the hurried resignation of the head of the welfare department and dismissal of her chief assistant. For, after all, the Supervisors are employees of the people, and the latter naturally expect full details of all transactions. However, 'it will all come out in the wash,' as they say and that will be when the grand jury renders its final report."

STOCKS SHOW WEAKNESS ON EASTERN CURB DOCK WORKERS ARE ACCUSED IN NEW ROWS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The picture for security and commodity markets tonight was anything but pleasing after the lightest stock market trading in five months.

Results in various markets today showed:

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange share market of approximately 340,000 shares, lightest since September 1, 1934. Bond trading on the same market $7,080,000, lightest since August 20, 1934. Stock sales on the Curb Exchange were $4,000 shares, lightest since October 29, 1934. Bond sales on the Curb Exchange $2,500,000, lightest since January 2.

Dow Jones averages of 20 rail stocks on the New York Stock Exchange dropped to 21.13, lowest level since April 29, 1933.

Dow Jones averages of 20 utility stocks on the New York Stock Exchange dropped to 17.05, lowest level since December 27, 1934.

May wheat delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade dropped to 94 3/8 cents a bushel, lowest since October 31.

There was but one answer—uncertainty over the gold clause decision. Wall Street had primed itself for the announcement to come today. The securities and exchange commission had considered plans of closing securities market. The Chicago Board of Trade had called a directors' meeting to give officers power to close that exchange in event the supreme court decision was upsetting to the market.

Then after the close Saturday came announcement that there would be no decision today and Wall Street's hopes of ending the uncertainty were defeated.

Relief Payroll Shows Increase

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The fiscal week ending January 10 marks the highest tide yet reached in the payroll of the SERRA unemployment relief program, when $1,782,843.96 was disbursed to 120,169 workers on SERRA projects, according to State SERRA Auditor, W. M. Sanborn.

Comparison with the payroll for the previous week ending January 3 shows an additional 7,666 persons working during the week of January 10. An increase of $703,656.58 in wages was shown.

San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo and Fresno counties shared in the increase in payroll, as well as the Amador, Yuba, Humboldt, Contra Costa, Sonoma and Sacramento areas. In Contra Costa 1,082 people were employed and received $12,708.12 in wages.

The work relief payroll for San Francisco county for the week was $175,554.06; for Los Angeles county $394,230.72, and for Alameda county $157,345.13.

Eight thousand nine hundred and seventeen unemployment relief projects have been approved to date for operation in California.

Moose Service Club Will Convene Today

Mrs. Clare Barry will be hostess to members of the Community Service Club of the Women of the Moose this afternoon.

Luncheon will be served and the day will be spent in sewing. Mrs. Doris Carter, the president, will preside.

MRS. CATHERINE PAYNE, 741 West Richmond avenue, who has been confined to a local hospital suffering from injuries sustained in a fall, has returned to her home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Disatisfaction with existing waterfront employment conditions received further voice today when Thomas G. Plant, president of the Waterfront Employers' association, accused the International Longshoremen's association of violating terms of a strike arbitration award.

Plant telegraphed his charges to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and to members of the California congressional delegation.

"Physical violence has been used and strikes have been called against companies adhering to the agreements," Plant charged. "The menace of another disastrous tie-up threatens. We ask that you use whatever influence you may have to induce the I. L. A. to observe provisions of the award."

Plant's accusations followed a similar protest from Seattle waterfront employers. His charges further resembled in part a protest made some weeks ago against alleged union violation of the arbitration terms.

The arbitration award officially ended the Pacific Coast's costly and bloody maritime strike of last summer. In the course of which the San Francisco bay region general strike was called.

Standard Oil Worker Called

Martin Cook, 61, of West Richmond, an employee of the Standard Oil plant, died while at work yesterday morning. Death was apparently due to heart failure.

Deceased had worked as a teamster and laborer for the past 17 years. His home was at 112 Cottage avenue.

Surviving are his widow, Nettie L. Cook; a daughter, Mrs. Edna Olson of Richmond; two sons, Sterling A. Cook and Vivien E. Cook, all of Richmond. Two grandchildren also remain to mourn.

In addition, Cook leaves his wife, Mrs. Louise Cook, of Willets and three brothers, Nathan, George and Preston Cook.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon with interment at Sunset View cemetery.

Garbage Dumping Permit Is Asked

MARTINEZ, Feb. 4.—First reading of an ordinance granting to the R. A. Morris company the right to dump garbage in Supervisor district 5, was given at a meeting of the board of supervisors today.

The land selected for the dumping ground is north of Oakley, and consists of overflooded land. The permit is to run for a period of 65 days, and provides that the applicant must pay to the county two and a half cents for every ton dumped. This will provide a revenue of about $15 to $20 a day for the county.

The location decided upon is about two miles from any habitation. The work of dumping, will have to be done to the satisfaction not only of the State health department but the county health department as well.

Utilities Rapped By Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Assertions that many private utilities arbitrarily inflated their rates $1,463,344,892 through "optimistic judgment" of high salaried executives and perfunctory "horseback appraisals" by company engineers were made tonight to the Senate by the Federal Trade commission.

The FTC reported these "write-ups" were uncovered in scores of utilities investigated during its six-year inquiry into the gas and electric situation and that they caused increased power rates for the public.

The report followed a survey of electric rates by the Federal Power commission in 191 large cities in which variations ranging as high as 243 per cent were found. Earlier, the FTC recommended abolition or drastic limitation of large utility holdings companies.

S. F. MAN IS FINED

Ralph Sinex, 26, of 1322 Leavenworth street, San Francisco, and Irving Bonov, 17, of the same address, appeared in police court yesterday morning on charges of soliciting without a permit. Sinex was fined $5 and his companion was reprimanded.

Narcotics Bring Relief To Victim Of Hiccoughing

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—UP—Heavy narcotics injections enabled George Harp to sleep four hours today but only retarded the frequency of hiccoughs which have plagued the 43 year old veterinarian for seven days.

While conscious, Harp hiccoughs 30 times a minute. While under the influence of narcotics, to which he responds with difficulty, he hiccoughs once every two or three minutes. These spasmodic contractions of his diaphragm awaken Harp in about an hour.

He takes food with difficulty, but looked well tonight after the first sleep he has had in nearly a week.

Harp said the attack was brought on by worry over loss of a $229 check.

"But this time it's not so bad," said Harp hopefully. "Five years ago I hiccoughed for so many days that I lost track of time. That time it was money, too."

Harp estimated his hiccoughing score passed 400,000 tonight. His home is in Johnson City, Tenn.

GREAT HELP

WIFE QUIZZED IN MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—North-eastern university's "lie detector" was used tonight in an effort to solve discrepancies in Mrs. Melba Springer Straub's version of her actions early Sunday morning when the bullet riddled body of her husband, Louis, was found in the basement of the exclusive Saddle and Vele Club.

She was taken to the university's "crime laboratory" by Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers and submitted to questioning under direction of Leonard Keeler, director of the laboratory.

Through 36 hours of continuous questioning she gave Meyers constantly shifting versions of her actions.

She persisted in one statement, "I didn't kill him. I loved him."

A homey clue, but one which may have genuine significance, was shown Mrs. Straub very suddenly by the detective bureau late today. It was an empty cassette found in her apartment.

Andrew Rosenberger, the club chef, said it was one he had packed with spaghetti and turkey wings the night of the murder and told Straub to take home with him. The Straubs, he said, frequently enjoyed such a midnight lunch, either at the club or at home.

"We've had that in the apartment for days," Mrs. Straub protested. "If you did," Meyers commented, "three other people are lying." He referred to kitchen help who confirmed the chef's story.

Wrapped in a luxurious mink coat she admitted calmly the untruth of her original statement that Pluffy, Straub's Spitz dog, had led her and Gus Schwartz, night watchman, to her husband's body.

Theatrical Debut Of Parents Of 5 Tots Is In Doubt

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The theatrical debut of Mr. and Mrs. Olive Dionne, who produced the Dionne quintuplets, was bogged down tonight in a fog of rumors and denials.

In spite of denials by Max Halpern and T. Bernard, Chicago theatrical agents, it was reported from North Bay, that William Flannery, attorney for the elder Dionnes had drawn up a contract for their appearance at Chicago and in the mid-west.

Flannery said the Dionnes would receive more than $1700 a week on a percentage basis for five day appearances, but denied he had drawn the contract. The Dionnes leave tonight for Chicago.

BUILDING DESTROYED

Fire believed to have been started by hoboes, destroyed the old John Davis building, a story and a half house, at Alameda street, in San Pablo early yesterday morning.

SUIT STOLEN TWICE

SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Water McPherson's best suit was stolen from his apartment Friday. He recovered it from a pawn shop Saturday by paying $4. It was stolen again last night. McPherson bought a new suit today.

Charges are Moderate

It is well to remember that a beautiful mortuary does not mean high prices, as this firm proves. With all the refinements and comforts to be found here, charges are never higher than the smallest incomes can easily afford. By including everything in one plainly marked price, we have made it possible for every family to make an appropriate selection without financial hardship.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

The "Night Slobber" Is Not a Serious Case, But Unpleasant Just the Same

WE NEED to take about a week to answer the "whys." Children are not the only folks who use that word, or who ask hard questions. We shall begin with the hardest, and at the same time, the least attractive. Why does one slobber, especially at night? There are three letters before me at the moment on this subject. Mrs. H. S. complains that two daughters always have their pillows soiled with saliva, and lately she has been having trouble herself. Helen McC. wants the cause and cure for excessive salivary secretion. W. M. C. also wants to know why his pillow is always moist and how it can be avoided.

DR. CHRISMAN

In most cases, the discharge is spoken of as excessive; let us dispose of that first. The normal amount of salivary secretion varies from two to three pints in twenty-four hours. During the periods of cutting teeth and always while eating, this flow of secretion is increased. There are a number of nervous affections and some diseases in which this process is excessive. The unusual amount is characteristic of mouth diseases like pyorrhea or of acute infection with fever, like smallpox, and is associated with convulsive attack such as rabies.

Occasionally with a glandular trouble, as in the pancreas, and commonly after the use of such drugs as mercury, copper, or the iodine compounds, you will be inclined to slobber. During pregnancy women are troubled with this annoyance. The fact that tobacco excites the salivary glands makes the chewing of it one of the most persistent habits. An attempt to stop chewing tobacco leaves the entire mouth area trying for the stimulant to relieve the dryness.

To get at the root of the trouble we must remember that such an amount of liquid in the mouth must be cared for by some involuntary mechanism. When this mechanism doesn't work, there must be some other way of ridding the mouth of the secretion. In other words, if you don't swallow you have to slobber.

The majority of my own cases that complain of night slobbering are found to be mouth breathers. Had you thought of that? The habit of breathing through the mouth dries the membranes of the throat, and, as a consequence, the process of involuntary swallowing is restricted. Having no other way of escape, the saliva pours out the mouth.

Sometimes, the position of the head during sleep brings the same result. Sleep with a pillow so high that the neck is strained.

THE presence of adenoids not only occasions mouth breathing, but obstructs the normal flow of head secretions, and again the throat is inclined to be deluged in involuntary swallowing. The habitual drooling of infants and insane persons is only an indication of the faulty response of the nerve centers involved in swallowing. It is quite possible that the man who complains of slobbering at night is an habitual spitter in the daytime.

The cure must be rather theoretical. You will see that the breathing mechanism must be kept free in order to insure the health and activity of the throat. There are drugs like atropine and belladonna that will dry up the secretion, but we usually give them only in cases of acute disease. Spraying the throat with bland oil or holding a soothing lozenge far back in the mouth at bedtime will make the throat muscles pliable. If the stomach is irritable, either eat very lightly or skip the evening meal for a while. Break yourself of breathing through the mouth. There are several good reasons why you should. A pungent vapor near the bed will help keep the nose clear. Even grandmother's nap pillow isn't to be despised.

Guide to Charm KEEPING PRETTY BRINGS COURAGE TO HER FAMILY

By JACQUELINE HUNT

NO MATTER how scarce your pennies may be, you should spend some of them for keeping yourself young, looking fresh and pretty. Why? Because children love a pretty mother. They are more apt to feel that the mother who manages to look young is closer to their problems and more ready to enter into their sports and interests.

Men like to see a woman who is naturally pretty to be sure, but they also like to see a woman who takes sufficient pride in herself to try to make the most of what she has to work with. And you should try to do just that. Keeping is disheartening to a man as to return home to an untidy wife after he has spent a busy, tiring day at work, or searching for work. But to be greeted by a woman with smooth shining hair, a fresh dress and gay red lips puts courage, self-confidence and pride into the man. Your first New Year's resolution should be to be more beautiful, kinder, and cozier to the ones you love. And the best way you can do this is to keep yourself healthy, well-groomed and fresh.

A lipstick, a box of face powder, a jar of cream and one jar of cream are enough if you can afford no more. They can bring you self-confidence and poise and an indefinable beauty. For this reason cosmetics must have a place in every beauty budget, especially if the budget is a limited one. Such a few cosmetics will go so far if they are only good cosmetics and if you guard your health and keep yourself always immaculately clean.

Soap and water are cheap, and they do more than anything to guard your beauty. One or two thorough scrubbing daily, a daily bath and fresh clothing every day if possible will insure a clear, healthy skin and keep your person sweet and dainty. One cream that is soft and fluffy enough in texture to be used for a preliminary cleanser, at least when your skin has been exposed for any length of time, and rich enough to soften and lubricate, is sufficient.

If you can afford only one kind of color, get a paste rouge that can be used for your lips, or get a lipstick that is soft and creamy enough to give your cheeks a hint of youthful color. If your eyes are clear and fresh, a speck of toilet water or perfume if you can manage it to keep your spirits high, and you can be a lovely lady to whom others look for strength and inspiration long, thick hair.

New Knitting Designs

New machines and attachments which, according to the manufacturers, will make possible the production of a multiplicity of designs and color arrangements heretofore unknown to the knitting arts, will constitute a feature at the Third National Knitwear Industrial Exposition in New York City, February 11 to 15.

Capt. Eden of the British Comes Forward as the Isle's Newest Political White Horse

THE Lloyd Georges, the Ramsay MacDonalds, the Lord Asquiths have long appeared in the political life of Great Britain, but there is a younger group now coming forward which will be heard from in the future annals of world affairs. One of the leaders in that group is Capt. Anthony Eden, the almost alarmingly handsome young diplomat who had so much to do with shushing that Hungary-Jugoslavia argument. He injected Britain's say so cleverly in the melee that he was actually cheered in the House of Commons recently. For the supposedly staid Englishman is going it a bit.

Eden's job is one of those loosely defined positions that stamp him as sort of a traveling diplomat. He is on a continual good-will tour, somewhat in the manner of our own Norman Davis. To be successful at such a difficult assignment one needs a kind of genius for both detail and back-slapping—certainly two opposite poles. Eden has

The New Tweeds In Luscious Colorings, Are Season's Favorite for Resort Wear

FEATURING ALL-WHITE ENSEMBLE

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild.

By IRENE VAIL

New York—It has been with the greatest effort that we have refrained from talking about resort clothes, but forgive us if we have just a bit about the new tweeds. For, after all, they are warm, both in color and actuality, and could be worn above Mason and Dixon's line.

To illustrate, take a stunning tweed amply trimmed with white wolf, a fur which seems to have a special bond of sympathy with raspberry and other luscious-colored woolsens. The new woolsens are just that luscious. There are all the bon-bon and fruity shades such as one encounters in ice cream, and there are also the dear, familiar pastels and the brighter shades which just miss that soft crayon-like look. Imagine them with white fur, especially wolf, which is newer than fox and quite as flattering. Then there are paper-mache tones, old ivory, French vanilla, the au lait, and cafe au lait, and, of course, all the liquor tones.

Duck's egg blue, which has a greenish cast, has been sponsored by some of the outstanding sportswear makers. Sketched today are two costumes that feature the all-white idea.

The costume at the left is developed in crepe, and both jacket and frock are embroidered in rhinestones, massed at the shoulders and scattered toward the hem.

The companion costume is done in white chiffon and satin, the latter chosen for the yoke of the long vaporous cape, also for the girle of the simply styled soft frock.

At right of the column is a gown of orange-red lustrous satin, accompanied by ostrich-trimmed feather hat in the same tone. The extremely low front neckline is accented by huge ornament.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have long, wavy hair of which I am very proud. But it is becoming more and more of a problem. Dust and little flakes of dandruff accumulate and it is almost impossible to brush them out. Shampooing is also a difficult job and I know I do not wash my hair often enough. Can you offer some helpful suggestions?"

—Mrs. Earl E.

I think it would be a good idea to have a hairdresser trim your hair. If this is done skillfully it does not show and it makes your hair much easier to care for and arrange. If you do not care to do this, then buy yourself a hairbrush with long, flexible whalebone bristles. These are sometimes called "headache brushes." The bristles are large and springy and will penetrate the thickest head of hair. I'm afraid there is no way of simplifying the problem of shampooing long, thick hair.

Banana Stays Fresh

Sliced banana may be used on a layer cake without discoloring. For today it is known that grapefruit juice, either canned or fresh, or pineapple juice, canned, sprinkled over the fruit will prevent discoloring. Also if bananas have discolored and you wish to restore them to their original color, try this treatment.

Tasty and Nourishing Dishes for Today Hearty Soups Fill the Void Made By Cold Winter Winds

By JUDITH WILSON

SOUPS should appear often in your simplified after-the-holidays menus. Most soups cost only a few cents to prepare, and often you can save both time and money by using the canned varieties, either as the basis of delightfully original soups of your own creation or as they come from the can.

There is a soup to fit any type of meal you wish to serve. For an economical supper yet one that is genuinely appreciated when the wind howls outside and flings little particles of ice against the window panes, serve a hearty soup. The soup, supplemented with hot biscuits, muffins or cornbread, a sizeable salad and simple dessert, makes a satisfying meal.

Belonging to the hearty soup family are the fish or vegetable chowders, bean soups, ox tail, mulligatawny (a thick, curry-flavored chicken and vegetable soup) and pepper-pot or a thick combination of vegetables, broth and well-cooked and seasoned meats.

The cream soups while less satisfying, are also rich and nourishing and should be served as the beginning of a simple dinner with a casserole entree or a vegetable plate. In small servings it may also appear on more elaborate luncheon or dinner menus.

Thin consommés, bouillons and broths are correct with rather elaborate meals. Made of meat stock they stimulate rather than dull the appetite. Keep a supply of the canned broths and also utilize the bones and trimmings of meats and chicken for stock when you have a chance. By combining well-flavored meat or chicken stock with tomato soup you have a delicious tomato bouillon. By adding vegetables cut into long, thin strips and simmering in the broth until tender you get consommé Julienne. Here are recipes for some good soups for your family suppers.

Black Bean Soup

Soak one cup black beans overnight. Drain, add fresh water to cover and cook until tender, adding more water from time to time as necessary. Press all of the pulp through a sieve. There should be two cups thick puree. Add two cups canned or hard-cooked egg in each bowl of soup. Sometimes a little sherry is used for flavoring.

Cream of Corn Soup

Drain a can of corn and chop the kernels very fine. To the liquid add one pint milk.

Tomato-Avocado Salad
Chocolate Souffle
Whipped Cream
Coffee

Consomme Julienne
Paprika Crackers
Crown Roast Pork with Stuffing
Hawaiian Apple Sauce
Roast Potatoes
Artichokes with Lemon Butter
Orange Chiffon Pie
Tea

Blend over the fire four tablespoons each of butter and flour and when smooth add the liquid and the corn and simmer ten minutes. Season with a teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon each of pepper and paprika and a pinch of nutmeg. Rub all through a coarse sieve, then add one cup cream and heat again to the boiling point. Sprinkle each serving with paprika.

For the "paprika" crackers

Take the crisp, salty round crackers, spread with softened butter and dust with paprika and a dash of cayenne. Pop into hot oven for a minute and serve with any mild-flavored or cream soup. The pepper adds a vivid flavor that you will like.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "Should a man out walking with two girls, walk between them or on the outside?"

—P. L.

ANSWER: A man is supposed to take the center when walking with two women, instead of sandwiching himself between them. But there are exceptions to the rules, times when a man must assist a lady, and in order to show the same courtesy to two ladies he must walk between them. Such an occasion may arise in a congested street. Here it is a man's place to offer his arm to each lady. If he has been walking on the curb side, and they are about to cross the street, he should change his position and walk between, taking each by the arm. If there will be other street crossings during the course of their walk, he should keep this position rather than keep changing back and forth to the curb side.

Short Cuts

Painted bedroom furniture is very fashionable just now. Consider it if you are planning to refurbish and are operating on a reduced budget. It is certainly richer looking and more dainty than cheaper grades of stained woods.

Make your clothespin bag of heavy material and sew it to a coat hanger. The clothespins can be pushed up and down the line, where they can always be within easy reach, thus saving stooping.

If you want spices to retain their full flavor, make sure that the covers of spice tins are always closed down tight.

CHEERING UP THE RAINY DAY

Who cares about the rain if she has one of these smart silver outfits such as this one worn by Betty Furness, film player. The outfit consists of cape, hat and umbrella, all in rubberized silver cloth. The galoshes are white and trimmed with white fur at the ankle.

You and Your Child PRAISE FORCED CHILD TO CHEAT FOR HIGH MARKS

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

DORIS had been a mediocre student, accustomed to head shakings and sighs of disappointment when the subject of school was introduced. Then one day, maybe it was luck or an accident, Doris brought home a test paper bearing a high passing mark. For a moment her mother was speechless. It was a surprise for which she was totally unprepared. "Well—well," she drawled, "This is something. Wait until your father hears about it." She hugged the child, and made such a big fuss over her during the lunch hour that the child went forth to attend the afternoon session at school imbued with the ambition to strive for high marks.

Doris' next mark was slightly below the new standard which she had set for herself, but it was so much higher than the average mark of some that she had good reason to show it off proudly at home. It caused quite a furor of excitement. Mother praised the child to the skies again. Enthusiastically and purposefully this time. For she had hit upon the right track. That whereas the first high mark may have been an accident, the second one certainly was proof that the child was responding to praise!

From here on Doris continued to give her parents pleasure with respect to her progress at school. And in return, mother and dad were making it their business to keep the child's ambition fired by praise. Such fuel being cheap, they kept up a roaring furnace of approval.

The other day the fire was suddenly extinguished when the teacher sent for mother. Doris had been caught copying.

Mother gleaned the hidden truth at once. She went home thinking: "Poor child; she did not want to disappoint us. She had to copy to keep up her standing." Then: "I shan't be hard on her. I shall have a talk with her and explain that I am sorry we gave her the impression we were after high marks only. That her character and good names come first with us. That if she does her best, that is all we ask, even if the rating is only fair. We want her to come by her marks honestly."

THE Problem of a Wife And a Husband Whose Families Both Demand Money Support

By MARIAN MATS MARTIN

AMONG the major tragedies of married life may be listed the discovery, or disinclination, of a man supporting three families, his own, his father's and his wife's family. It's expecting a great deal of a man, even though he can afford it, to shoulder such a burden. I have nothing but sympathy for the writer of this letter. Even a dutiful wife can not be calous to the needs of her own parents, or whatever family she has.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: We were helping to support our families for five years but finally decided to get married. It has been some time now and we are still in love and have a darling baby. "My husband continues to send money to his family. My family did fairly well without me until this winter when they needed help badly. My husband claims we have no duty towards them and as much as he would like to help he can't possibly support three families on his meager salary. However, I do feel responsible. We have already had two bad quarrels over the situation. If I were only convinced myself which course was right it would help me. Could you please give me some advice?"

"1. Is my husband right about having no duty toward my family?"

"2. Should I insist on sending my family as much as he sends his? (This seems to be only fair but it is what we've had the fights over.)"

"3. Should I quit my child and home and get a job again for my family?"

"I feel my first duty is to my husband and child. However, maybe I am being old fashioned and should get a job again. My husband is very much against it. And although my family claims to love me, they treat me very coldly now, considering me totally selfish and lacking in filial duty. Should I have backbone and push up a fight for question No. 2? My arguments lack conviction, though, when I remember how hard my husband works and how little satisfaction he gets out of the money he earns. I do not think I should."

Your husband's attitude must be excused by the fact that he is the bread winner. This gives him the right to the deciding voice in any discussions over money. I do not think, however, that his attitude is fair to you. There must be some way by which you can compromise this exceedingly disturbing situation.

Unless your family is in desperate want and you are their only hope of support I do not advise taking a job against your husband's wishes. Your first duty is to him, and to your child. There may be some way by which you can make extra money at home. You see, I have no idea what your talents or capabilities are.

If the plight your family is in is only temporary I think he should strain a point and help them. If it is a permanent situation you are expecting a great deal from a hard working man when you expect him to take over your family, especially if there are any able-bodied ones in it.

PERHAPS you could persuade him to help occasionally, or perhaps you could save something from the money your husband gives you.

No family worth helping would show their displeasure with you for not doing the impossible. Be perfectly frank with them about the situation. Do what you can without jeopardizing yours and your husband's happiness. Don't quarrel with your husband about it. Do what you can to make him see how unhappy his attitude makes you and how unfair you consider he is.

But unless there are no other children in his family, as well as yours, and his parents as well as yours are too old or are unable to support themselves I think you have both done enough.

Families often make very unjust demands.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks nasty, don't swallow a job of salts, pills, water, oil, laxatives or anything else and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and bright and full of sunnier days.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feelings is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your bile flow freely, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Don't be misled by cheap imitations. ©1931 C. M. Co.

ed a sharp, substantial chapter to the story of where Violet Sharpe was on the night of March 1, 1932, and what she was doing.

So far neither state nor defense has produced a witness in this courtroom to tell why Violet Sharpe raced upstairs in the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, grandmother of the Lindbergh baby, and drank poison one night when she was told the state police would be back next day to question her. She had earned a reputation in Mrs. Morrow's service of being a good maid, trustworthy and competent. Her only fault was that she sometimes went to highway roadhouses with men she didn't know any too well.

WOMAN CALLED

Her suicide brought suspicion down on her head, and today the defense began to capitalize on it.

Mrs. Bonesteel runs a restaurant up by the Yonkers ferry. She is a bulky woman whose voice carried from the witness chair to the last reaches of the courtroom. As soon as she was sworn in, Reilly went straight to the point.

The witness stated that Miss Sharpe came into her restaurant on the night of March 1, 1932, that she had a blanket with her and was very nervous. The woman, the witness said, said she was waiting for someone.

Cross examined by Attorney General David T. Wilentz, Mrs. Bonesteel was shown a picture and asked to identify it. She declared that she had never seen the woman before and when Wilentz stated that this was a picture of Miss Sharpe, the witness reversed her testimony, declaring that now she recognized the picture.

Be Lupica was the next witness called by the defense.

Lupica came down the Hopewell road on his way home from Princeton Preparatory School on March 1, 1932. He took his mail out of a box where the main highway intersects Lindbergh Lane. He was reading a letter when up came a dark blue sedan with a ladder lying across the seats. But Lupica saw only one man, he swore today—"a man in a dark coat, dark hat and with thin features." No words were passed between them, he said.

"It was not Hauptmann," Lupica said.

Wilentz began cross examination. "Will you swear that this man you saw was not Hauptmann?"

"No I don't. He resembled Hauptmann somewhat."

"Didn't you get paid for writing two articles for the New York Daily Mirror, saying that the man you saw was Hauptmann?"

"Yes, but I had the editor correct them later."

Lupica was in a peculiar position. He was in court under a subpoena issued by the state, but Wilentz did not call him as a witness. Instead, he came to the witness chair, under a prosecution subpoena, to testify for the defense.

His story seemed to contradict itself, and also to snap the smooth narrative that the defense was building. Harding saw two men in the car, Lupica, only one. So Lupica left the stand without adding any clarity to the case either for or against Hauptmann.

MISSING GIRL FOUND

(SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.)—Jean MacKenzie, 18-year-old daughter of an U. S. Army chaplain, reported missing from her home at 2370 North Point street on Thursday, was located today in San Diego when she appealed to police to send her home, according to dispatches.

The Eyes of Hauptmann

ARE THESE the eyes of the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby? They are the much talked of steel gray eyes of Bruno Hauptmann, the German alien accused of the kidnaping of the infant.

Filipinos Taken In Custody In Chinese Murder

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 4.—UP—Six Filipinos were in custody tonight in connection with the robbery of a Chinese gaming club and the killing of an aged Chinese attendant of the establishment.

Three were arrested today. They were Juan C. Cabreros, Valentin Cabreros, and Isaias C. Cabreros. Arresting officers said an automobile found abandoned after the robbery and shooting, was registered to the trio. All denied participation in the affair, claiming the machine had been stolen from them.

Three others, Horatio Tala, 25, Hilario Caringa, 27, and Paulino Pagador, 26, were arrested Sunday. One other Filipino said to be a member of the gang which conducted the robbery was hunted.

The gang obtained $700, Lee Quen, 83, was shot and killed.

Changes Asked In Bank Laws By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—UP—The administration asked Congress today to make the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation permanent and to combine the offices of chairman of the board and governor in each of the Federal Reserve Banks.

The proposals were part of a bill to be known as the Banking Act of 1935, introduced in the House by Rep. Henry Steagall, D. Ala., chairman of the banking and currency committee.

Features of the bill relating to the FDIC act include:

1. Extension of the $5000 maximum insurance protection for each depositor.
2. Maximum assessments on bank of one-twelfth of one percent of total deposits instead of obligatory stock subscription of one percent as at present.

Changes proposed in the Federal Reserve Act include:

1. Combining the offices of governor and board chairman in each federal reserve bank.
2. Limiting terms of board members, except governor and vice governor to six years.

Eclipse Lodge In Plans For Annual Visit

Drill was held last night by Eclipse Lodge of Odd Fellows at a meeting held in the Odd Fellows Temple.

Preparations are being made by the lodge for the visit of the grand master, who will be here next Monday night. A brilliant program has been arranged for the evening.

Ray Fidler presided over the meeting.

but which was favored by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

3.—A revision which would make it impossible for Controller General J. R. McCarl, the "watchdog of the treasury" from interfering with expenditures under the program, was generally acceptable.

4.—The conference are determined to eliminate that provision which would authorize loans from the appropriation to needy individuals.

5.—Senator Carl Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, has prepared an amendment which would direct that money disbursed from the fund for highways or grade crossings be expended through established federal agencies. This was regarded as an indirect admonition to the chief executive that Congress wants part of the works fund allocated for this purpose.

6.—Senator Pat McCarran, Democrat, Nevada, will introduce an amendment which would specify that the government must pay the prevailing hourly wage scale under forthcoming construction. Administration spokesmen had indicated that the relief pay would be an average of $50 a month.

Banker Speaks At Session Of Merchants Here

The outlook for the year of 1935 for the City of Richmond was discussed last night by J. H. Miller, local banker at the meeting of the Richmond Merchants Association.

Miller declared that the outlook for the year is very rosy as far as can be determined at this time.

Chief of Police L. E. Jones was one of the guests of the evening. Clarence Johnson was named as chairman for the next meeting, which will be held on March 4. He will arrange a program.

W. H. Dayton, the newly elected president, was in charge of the meeting.

Mattoon Burden May Be Lifted

Relief from the Mattoon act burden was seen last night when the residents of Berkeley Park gathered and attentively listened to Supervisor James N. Long, District Attorney Francis P. Healey and Deputy District Attorney Harold Jacoby explain an emergency measure passed by the Legislature, providing for the refinancing of such districts.

A committee was named to contact the bondholders and see if a compromise can be effected on the basis of the bondholders accepting a discount. This committee will report back to a meeting on the 18th of the month as to the success of its mission. At that time it is expected definite steps will be taken looking to a solution of the vexatious problem.

LODGE WILL CONVENE
Gladstone lodge, Sons of St. George, will hold its regular business meeting tonight at the Memorial hall with E. J. Crowfoot in charge. After the meeting a whist party will be enjoyed and plans will be made for a visit to Oakland next week.

Vallee Marital Discords To Be Publicly Aired

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Marital difficulties of Rudy and Fay Webb Vallee probably will be aired in open court rather than the cloistered chambers of the Supreme Court bench.

Marking apparent failure of Supreme Court Justice Cotillo's effort to effect a compromise in his chambers, the jurist said this afternoon that the crooner had expressed himself "perfectly willing" that his public be cognizant of progress of Mrs. Vallee's legal battle to set aside the present separation agreement whereby she gets $100 weekly from Rudy.

PUBLIC FED UP
After conferring with Rudy and Fay in chambers, Judge Cotillo observed:

"I would like to keep this case out of the newspapers. I tried to avoid throwing this thing out to the public."

"The charges of counter charges are such that I believe the public is fed up with this sort of thing."

HEARING TODAY
"I talked with Mr. Vallee and attorneys for the other side. Mr. Vallee said he is perfectly willing that this go to the public. He says he's guilty of nothing."

Counsel for both sides, stated the judge ordered them to return to court tomorrow.

Gunmen Battle With Police And Escape Capture

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 4.—(UP)—Two men, one of them believed to have been Raymond Hamilton, elusive killer, engaged in a gun battle with police here tonight.

The gunmen escaped. The battle occurred at a residence in south Dallas.

Police had been tipped off that Hamilton was expected at the house tonight and went there to wait for him. While the officers waited, two men approached. The police stepped out, covered the visitors with guns and commanded them to surrender.

A fusillade of shots was the answer. Officers returned the fire. During the battle, the bandits escaped in a truck.

Hamilton has been sought since July 22, when he led a group of prisoners in an escape from the death house at the Huntsville prison.

All his companions on that escape have been recaptured or slain.

Adoption Will Be Held Soon By Local Tribe

Adoption of a class of candidates will be held by the Onetah Tribe of Red Men at its next meeting. It was announced last night at the meeting of the lodge. Twelve candidates will be given the degree, to be conferred by Awahnee Tribe of Fruitvale. A banquet will follow.

Tentative plans for a ladies night program in the near future are being made. On February 25 the Tribe will hold Past Sachem's night and on Saturday, February 16, the Degree of Pocahontas will give a dinner at Mammy's Place to which the Onetah Tribe has been invited.

Emil Esola presided over the meeting.

TO TRY AGAIN FOR APPROVAL OF PROJECT

City Engineer H. D. Chapman informed the Council for the City of Richmond Monday night that he was going to try and have the S.E.R.A. officials reconsider their action in turning down the construction of sidewalks, curbs and gutters in the city as a project for S.E.R.A. workers.

Chapman said that similar projects had been approved and are under way in Albany, Berkeley and Oakland and he thought he would be able to have the project approved.

The S.E.R.A. in rejecting the original project said that the proposed work was disconnected and was a private benefit and not a public benefit.

SEeks DAMAGES
A communication from Odin Kaurin asking for damages to his hand caused by a faulty sidewalk on Liberty street near Moesser Lane was turned over to the insurance company.

NEEDS FIXING
Request of City Clerk Fred J. Prosser that the city purchase a new check protector at $52.25 or have the old one repaired at a cost of $36 was laid over one week and bids could be received.

MIST MOVE SIGN
At the instance of Councilman Louis Navellier the council instructed City Attorney T. H. DeLap to take whatever action was necessary to compel the El Cerrito Kennel Club to move the street sign on San Pablo avenue back of the property line.

This move was made on a request by Colonel J. H. Skeggs of the State Highway Division. Skeggs alleged the sign was over the street and should be moved back.

ONE FOREMAN, TWO JOBS
Street Commissioner W. F. Huber reported that full crew of S.E.R.A. workers was being used on the park project on Point street and a partial crew on the park at Terrace Drive, so he was employing one foreman for the two jobs.

PERMIT TO MOVE
P. T. Russell was granted a permit to move his used car lot from Central and San Pablo avenue to San Pablo avenue near Moesser Lane.

LACKS ONE APPROVAL
City Attorney T. H. DeLap reported that permission had been received from the Santa Fe for a crossing on Knott avenue but no permission had yet been received from the Electric Railways.

DeLap said he would contact the other parties this week and have a report next meeting.

FAVOR TAX SURVEY
The council went on record as sponsoring a project to be submitted to the S.E.R.A. for approval of having the physical description of property in the city taken for tax assessment records.

Councilman J. R. Beck said the data would be invaluable to the council in equalizing tax assessments.

Councilman W. F. Huber voted no on the motion, stating he thought the city clerk had enough time to do the work himself.

If approved the work will be done under the supervision of City Clerk Fred J. Prosser.

Plans and specifications for the improvement of Cutting Boulevard will probably be submitted to the Division of State Highways according to the report of City Engineer

Hunt Bandits In Attempted Holdup Of Western Road

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Law enforcement agencies of this city tonight were alerted to hunt for masked bandits who attempted the D. & R. G. W. train holdup Sunday night.

A complete description of the ring leader was furnished by Engineer J. W. Maycroft when he returned here today. Police Chief Payne, however, did not make it public.

"It was an amateur affair," said Federal Department of Justice agents. "Karpis and his gang wouldn't have been routed by a couple of shots. And they would have had a high powered car to escape in, not a truck, as is claimed the bandits had."

H. D. Chapman.
Chapman stated that the delay was caused by having to re-draw the plans to meet with State specifications.

SPONSOR PROJECT
On a motion of Councilman W. F. Huber the council sponsored a S.E.R.A. project to have the city engineer make a record of assessments and valuation of property in the city.

Turn Deaf Ear To Coin Appeal

MARTINEZ, Feb. 4.—The supervisors did not accord a receptive ear to the plea made to them today to pay $125 a month to the national employment service, the money to be spent under the direction of the Vallejo office.

J. Towne, administrator of the 19 northern counties of the state advised the board that the government was no longer in a financial position to pay the director of the Richmond office a salary but as the board contributes $125 monthly for the salary of a stenographer-clerk, he thought the same amount, if allowed, and spent under his direction, at Vallejo, would enable him to carry on the work in Richmond.

The idea did not carry any appeal to the board members as they freely expressed the opinion that in the role of contributor they proposed to have something, in fact much, to say as to how the taxpayers' money of this county is spent. And like the man told of in the scriptures, Mr. Towne not only went away sorrowful, but without an allotment of the coin.

that labor was vitally interested in this appointment, and the intimation was given that pressure might have to be used, Long said he had been in public office for over 20 years, and he was willing to stand on his labor record. He thought he had been a much better friend to labor than some of those appearing and entering a protest.

COURTEOUS INSULT
Then Mrs. Violet Orr, Communist of Richmond, who had recently been convicted of violating an ordinance of that city, entered upon the scene. She said she was responsible Communist, and wanted to assure the labor delegation, that the Communists were with them in their fight. She also made the statement that she would be willing to debate Supervisor Long at any time on his labor record.

"I never debate with anyone whose opinions I do not value," rejoined Long, and Mrs. Orr sat down.

Good Lighting starts with Proper Lamp Design of a Better Lamp

for Better Light.

Higher standard than the ordinary lamp, 19 1/4 inches from table top to bottom of the shade.

What a difference under the shade! The diffusing bowl which eliminates both reflected and direct glare to give light that is soft and glareless.

The shade open at the top and wide at the bottom is the third reason why this revolutionary lamp gives six to ten times as much light as an ordinary lamp.

SEE that the lamps you buy for your home are designed to give you abundant light from proper height and distance so that it is easy for your eyes to see quickly and to read without effort.

Note the distinctive features of the Science of Seeing Study Lamp pictured above. They are the tall standard, the diffusing bowl and the special shade, wide at the bottom to give much more useful light than ordinary lamps.

There should be at least one of these new lamps in every home. It helps good eyes to keep good eyesight and aids weakened eyes to see more easily.
